WELCOME TO THE NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC LEARNING CATALOG

At National Geographic Learning, our goal is to bring the world to the classroom, and the classroom to life. We think the world is incredible, and that learning should inspire and amaze. We want students of English and their teachers to experience the excitement and joy of learning through our materials. With our English language programs, students learn about their world by experiencing it.

We're delighted to bring you the latest in authentic, relevant, and motivating materials, with new titles across the board from kindergarten through to academic series. We're strengthening our 'Young Learners' titles with an impressive and revolutionary series that strikes the right balance between literacy and language -and that of course, brings the spectacular stories of National Geographic Explorers.

We're also enriching our digital offer, enhancing our Spark platform with one goal in mind: help teachers deliver dynamic and interactive lessons, that enable memorable and relevant learning. We want institutions all over Mexico, Central America, Colombia, Ecuador and Venezuela to reach their goals and be successful at every stage of teaching and learning.

This publishing really reflects the growing needs and requirements of our partners as English moves to be the language of instruction in many corners of the world. We hope you enjoy browsing the wealth of titles and resources within these pages.

DEVELOPING SKILLS FOR GLOBAL COMMUNICATION

Chia Suan Chong

In today's interconnected world, English teachers do more than teach a language—they equip students with the skills they need to communicate effectively and navigate diverse global contexts. This well-researched and practical text bridges theory and practice, helping teachers seamlessly integrate communication, mediation, and life skills into their everyday lessons.

In this book, communication skills expert and teacher trainer Chia Suan Chong breaks down the key micro-skills essential for building global competence in young adult and adult students at all proficiency levels, and in any part of the world. Using clear examples, practical strategies, and engaging activities, both new and experienced teachers will learn how to develop their students' ability to communicate confidently and effectively beyond the classroom.

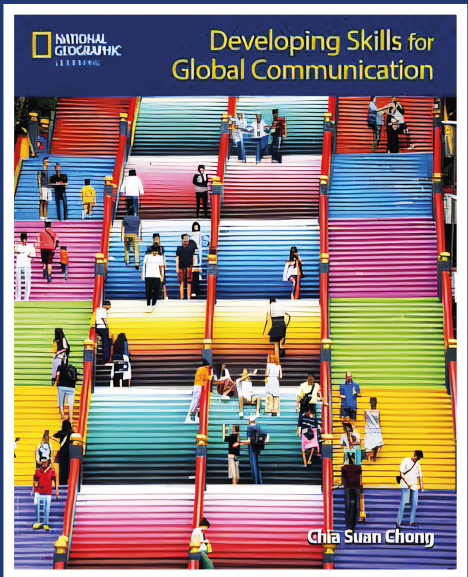

"A game-changer for educators who want their students to communicate effectively in English and thrive in our interconnected world."

Heather Hansen, Global Communication Specialist

"Each chapter invites you to get to know yourself, our shared world, and your place in it. It is a lovely blend of self-discovery and exposure to global cultures and practices in a well-researched and accessible format."

Andrés Ruzo, National Geographic Explorer

ASSESSMENT FROM NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC LEARNING ASSESSMENT OF ENGLISH FOR BETTER TEACHING AND LEARNING

PLACE

National Geographic Learning Online Placement Tests provide valid placement aligned to the CEFR and recommend pathways into our programs.

MONITOR PROGRESS

Integrated formative assessment, available in print and in the Spark platform, helps teachers to monitor students' knowledge of learning objectives for better teaching and learning.

ASSESS LEARNING

Summative assessments track students' knowledge against the course learning objectives. Tools in Spark like ready-made tests, customizable tests delivered online, automatic grading, and rubrics, give teachers both flexibility and confidence in evaluating their students.

TRACK TO LEARNING OUTCOMES AND IDENTIFY TEACHING OPPORTUNITIES

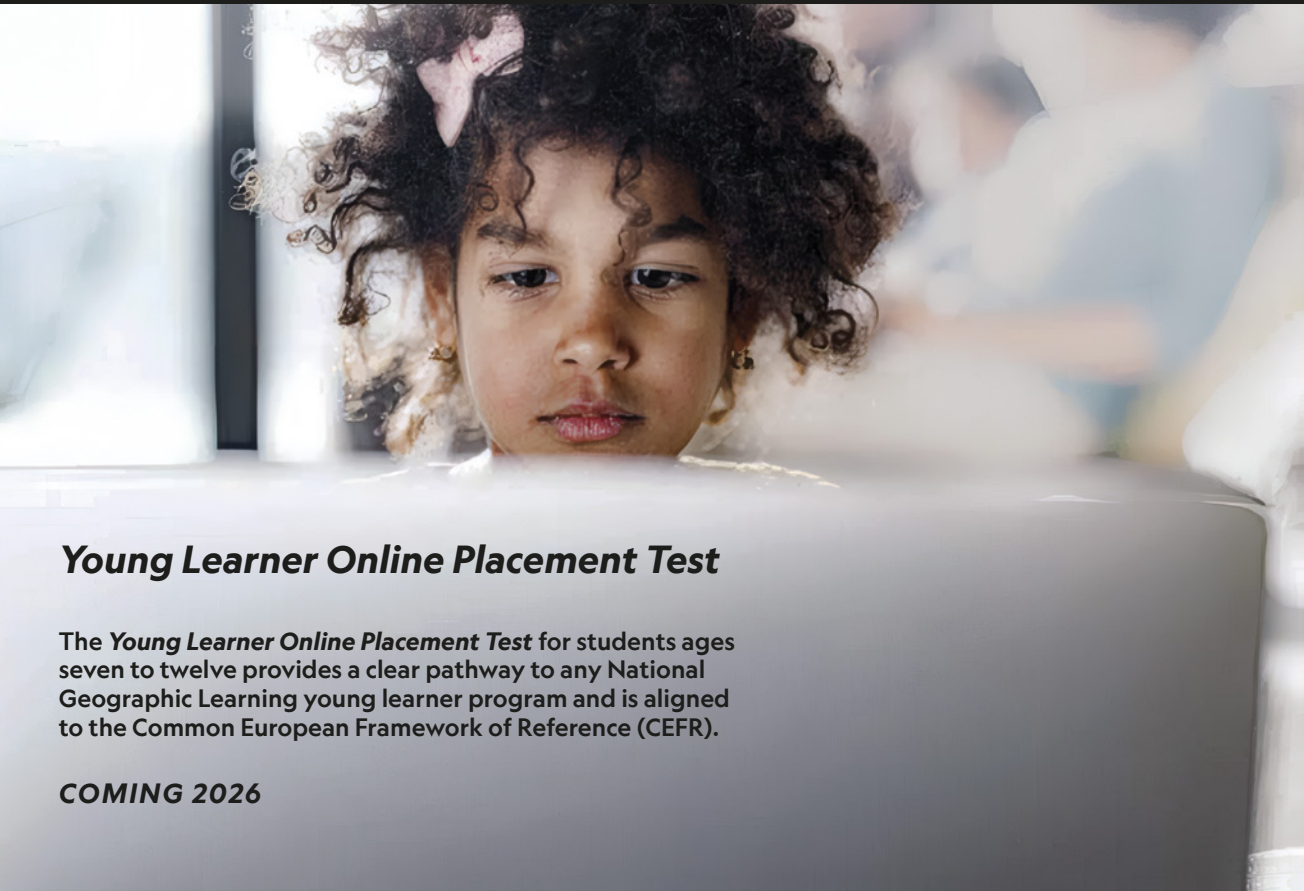

The Course Gradebook and Administrative Reporting in Spark enable tracking to learning outcomes and global standards at the student, class, and institutional levels.

- Student Performance views allow teachers to easily track each student's performance and effort on assigned work and tests.
- Class Performance views display how groups of students are performing collectively.
- Administrative Reporting views display performance at the institutional level for ease in documenting school-wide success.

This information helps teachers know where to adjust lessons or provide personalized support.

Trailblazer cultivates critical thinkers, readers, and writers and provides the language support they need to be ready to study subject-matter content in English. Trailblazing students take meaningful action beyond the classroom by developing the ability to shape their own answers to life's big questions, and to view these questions through multiple perspectives.

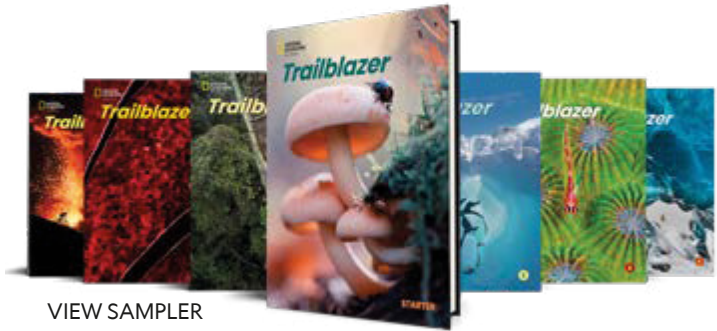

- A multiple literacy approach helps prepare students for meaningful real-world interaction.
- Authentic non-fiction, globally diverse fiction, and information presented through multi-media inputs prompt students to think critically and apply their language and skills to real-world contexts.
- The real-life stories of National Geographic Explorers inspire a new generation of trailblazing students to make a positive impact on their community.
- Assessment of English language skills and strategies helps instructors to track learning outcomes, and students to meet their learning goals, including success on international exams.
- Integrated digital tools for every stage of teaching and learning are available on the Spark platform.

DEVELOP
YOUR VOICE
IN ENGLISH

Voices is a seven-level, integrated-skills program for adults and young adults that enables learners to use English as a tool for global communication. Carefully sequenced activities featuring real world content guides learners to develop their voice in English.

Learners develop their voice in English by:

- Listening and watching National Geographic Explorers share their daily experiences for interesting and relatable models of people contributing their voices to the global English community.
- Answering the question, “What would I do?” in a range of culturally rich and hypothetical situations to practice the mediation skills needed to navigate social interactions in English.
- Developing speaking skills using a practical pronunciation syllabus focused on clarity and comprehensibility.
